PRESS RELEASE

DEPUTY MAYOR OF LONDON ATTENDS BREAKFAST MEETING WITH HSS UK

The Deputy Mayor of London for Business, Mr Rajesh Agrawal, attended a breakfast meeting with top business leaders and HSS UK this morning.

They were shown around the residential camp that was inaugurated today at Hertfordshire County Showground where 2200 participants have attended from all over the UK to participate in the activities throughout the weekend.

The business meeting delegates, including the Deputy Mayor, commented extremely positively on the organisations philosophy which was evident during their tour of the campsite. The delegation was treated to a tour around the special 50th year exhibition, displaying the numerous achievements of HSS UK in the past 50 years. The exhibition has been specially created by volunteers after numerous hours of selfless dedication and depicted the HSS noble spirit of spreading peace throughout the world. HSS hopes to achieve this through character building and by raising social consciousness through Dharmic principles.

The business leaders delegation recognised that HSS is driven by 3 honourable principles – Sanskaar, Sewa and Sanghathan.

Mr Dhiraj Shah (President of HSS UK) said after the meeting "everyone in the meeting was keen to spread the positive philosophy of Hss and Hss looks forward to working with future leaders from all walks of life including business. He encouraged the delegates to get involved with Sangh activities and the business leaders expressed their wish for Sangh workers to collaborate on philanthropic projects."
